

Saving Shakespeare from the Dustbin!

poortom productions presents its first all male production of As You Like It

A daring new look at one of Shakespeare's most misunderstood and musical comedies combining brilliant ensemble work from a fresh and irreverent all-male cast and an original musical score. This production of As You Like It will take you back to your youth and those exciting, crazy, innocent, ridiculous, and mischievous days of falling in love.

By harnessing the power of talented actors, directors and designers the poortoms are returning Shakespeare to his rightful place as one of our most contemporary, provocative and entertaining playwrights. poortom productions is New York City's first all-male Shakespeare Company dedicated to producing Shakespeare's plays as they were originally performed.

poortom productions reveals and revels in Shakespeare's brilliance, absurdity, power and joy in the original creative energy that inspired him to write his plays, at times permitting glimpses into a touching and thrilling world where gender means anything can be As You Like It.
